New Heating and Cooling Units for Mardel's in Arlington, Texas

Cary Services recently had the pleasure of working with Hobby Lobby out of their Oklahoma City office to replace packaged rooftop heating and cooling units for Mardel Christian & Education in Arlington, Texas.

Mardel's is a faith-based company dedicated to transforming lives through the products they sell and the ministries they support. Mardel's provides a large selection of Bibles, books, movies, gifts, music, apparel, church and educational supplies, and homeschool curriculum. They offer their products on Mardel.com and across 35 stores throughout Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Louisiana.

In 1981, Mart Green, CEO of Mardel, stepped out of his family's business, Hobby Lobby, to pursue his own dream in the Christian retail market by opening the first Mardel's retail store in northwest Oklahoma City. Although the store was small in size—approximately 7,200 square feet—it carried a large variety of products. Stores now average approximately 25,000 square feet with additional product selections.

Cary Services is happy to have worked with Hobby Lobby and Mardel's on this fun, yet challenging, project.
